Tom Greenway enjoyed a eight year competitive judo career that started in the early 1970's and finished at the Pan-Am Games in Cuba in 1991. Tom's judo career took him to all parts of the world, including Argentina, Holland, Hungary, Puerto Rico, Japan, Cuba, Germany and across Canada and the U.S. Tom enjoyed hiking, fishing and anything outdoors. However, it was his passion for Judo that kept him involved in the sport for nearly 35 years.

"I was lucky enough to travel with Tom at the end of his international judo career and the start of mine. He was very supportive and always was there with key words of advice to help me get over some early disappointing loses, In 1991 I was a rookie on the senior team attending the Pan-Am Games in Cuba; I can still remember him playing practical jokes and bantering me the whole trip but he was one of the first to be there to support me after I lost the final."
